CHAPTER -5: AS YOU SOW, SO SHALL YOU REAP

Read chapter -5: "As You Sow, So Shall You Reap"

1. Answer the following questions -

i. What are the qualities of a true friend?

Ans –A true friend should be kind, helpful, honest, trustworthy, caring and should be a good listener.

ii. Think of good and bad things of your best friend and discuss.

Ans- The good things about my best friend are that she is very kind, helpful and hardworking.

The bad thing about her is that she does not participate in cultural programmes.

iii. What do you understand by the statement. "A friend in need is a friend indeed".

Ans – A true friend will always understand you and help you when you are in trouble unlike others who will disappear when the trouble arises.

iv. What lesson do you learn from the stories of "Bee and the Sparrow "and 'The Three Friend "?

Ans – The lesson we learn from "Bee and the Sparrow" is that good deeds produce good results for others as well as us and God loves those who are kind and helpful to others.

The lesson we learn from "The Three Friends" is that evil breeds evil and if we cannot be helpful to others we must not harm them also.

v. Write down any five ways in which we can help others.

Ans – 1. We can be kind and friendly to others.

2. We can help others in need.

3. We can donate things that are not of use to us.

4. We can volunteer in charity and school.

5. We can assist others when they are sick.

NOTE:-Do all the work neatly in your MORAL SCIENCE book and notebook.
